APPROVAL DOCUMENT FOR AN IGC POSITION RECORDER FOR FAI SILVER AND GOLD BADGE FLIGHTS

Date of Effect

30th September 2012

Introduction

This document authorises the use of the EWFR Models A-D to be used for the validation of flights up to and including FAI Silver and Gold Badge performances. In addition, for such flights, evidence from an IGC-approved GNSS Flight Recorder may also be used if one is available.

This approval covers only the EWFR Models A-D and their operation when connected to GPS engines as described in Annex C to IGC Approval for GNSS Flight Recorder, Recorder EW Avionics EWFR Models A-D 25th April 2010 (see references below).

The detailed process for making a badge flight and providing evidence to the NAC is contained in the Sporting Code for Gliding (SC3 and its Annexes).

Type of Position Recorder

Name of Position Recorder: EWFR Models A-D

Manufacturer: EW Avionics, formerly of Upton, Banbury, Oxon OX15 6HJ

Basis of Approval

This BGA Approval is based on the original IGC Flight Recorder approval document dated 10th August 2012 and now obsolete. The operational requirements within this approval remain unchanged from those described in the IGC approval dated 10th August 2012 (see references below) with the restriction that the recorder may only be used for claims up to and including Gold Badge.
