

APPLICATION FOR A BGA ASSISTANT INSTRUCTOR COURSE

This course results in a BGA Assistant Instructor Rating. You can enrol with or without a BI rating. Please see the explanation as well as the course record program booklet at <http://www.gliding.co.uk/bgainfo/instructors/forms.htm>.

Before applying for the course, please discuss it with your CFI.

The course comprises of a Teaching & Learning A module, the club-based training B module, a review C module and a 7-day course D module.

The course fee is £315.00 – to be paid when booking the 7-day course (D module). There is a £10 fee for a copy of the BGA Instructors Manual available ahead of the Teaching & Learning A module.

Please read these details carefully. An application for this course is an agreement.

For accommodation, please contact the gliding club direct. All courses begin on the first day at 0930.

Flying Fees are paid at local club rates.

Notes

There is a time limit of 18 months from the beginning of the Teaching & Learning A module to the end of the course. Naturally, we would rather you complete the course in far less time than that!

Please provide as many alternative course dates as you can..

A temporary reservation can be made by telephone. The place can be confirmed by sending this completed form and payment (as required) to the BGA office within 21 days. After the 21 days, the temporary reservation is no longer valid and the place will be offered to other candidates.

Instructors hold a significant level of responsibility and supervisory influence within clubs. It is strongly suggested that all new instructors apply for and hold a Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) certificate. The simple procedure to follow to gain a DBS certificate is at <https://members.gliding.co.uk/child-protection/>
